The Triumph of My Soul

Stories of Hope, Triumph and Inspiration

Peace In The Storm Publishing presents...

From Author, Poet & Visionary, Elissa Gabrielle, comes a soul-stirring anthology that will touch your heart, feed your spirit, and strengthen your soul.

Every so often, an anthology is written that is meant to inspire and uplift; to fortify and nourish, to comfort and reassure, but most of all, to bring you closer to a place of peace and resolve.

This Christmas, The Triumph of My Soul releases. This anthology has stories for everyone who has ever experienced the ups and downs of life. Whether you're a parent who has lost a child, a man or woman who have been the victim of abuse, someone who has lost their identity in their love for another human being, survived a life-threatening illness, have been knocked down only to get back up time and time again...whatever your trial or tribulation, at the end there is Triumph.

Inspirational, prolific, heartfelt encouraging stories featuring Essence Best-selling author, Bill Holmes, Motivational Speaker & Talk Show Host, Cheryl Donovan, Best-selling author, Elissa Gabrielle, Karibu Best-Selling author Jessica Tilles, and College Professor and Ph.D. candidate, Dike Okoro, the highly-talented, Lorraine Elzia, the eye-opening Agnes B. Levine, the uplifting Fon James, the strong Jarold lmes, the provocative Kim Robinson, the magnificent Keshia Dawn, the sensitive Allyson Deese, the determined Linda R. Herman, the progressive Ebonee Monique, the comforting Jacqueline Moore, the survivor Linda Wattley, and the butterfly Casche Russell.

Praise for The Triumph of My Soul

"What a testament of faith and the Grace of God. These stories moved me to tears...tears of joy!"

~Diane Dorce'
Author, 52 Broad Street

"The Triumph of My Soul takes you on a journey, beyond the masks and facades we create in our "perfect little world" and forces us to move from relying on our own abilities to total trust in the Father."

~Wanda B. Campbell,
Author, First Sunday in October

"Awesome, heartfelt and inspirational read. These incredible short stories will make anyone who may be going through a family crisis, abuse, health problems, a heartbreak and whatever life dishes out, to feel a sense of relief, uplift and awareness. These stories prove how important faith in God is."

~Tinisha Nicole Johnson, Author/Writer/Poet

"Inspiration is generously offered through the written words of each contributing author of The Triumph of My Soul. Within its pages, we become acquainted with an immutable truth; that truth being that He will never leave nor forsake us. It is a work that will most assuredly cause its readers to reflect upon their past and present views on life."

~Dr. Linda Beed
Author, Business Unusual

"The Triumph of My Soul is a testament of the power of the spirit and prayer in our daily lives. Through these authors, we repeatedly see how God "shows up and shows out." It can be illness, death, depression or lack of worldly goods; if you take His hand and let faith lead you, nothing can stop you. This book is uplifting for the mind, body and soul."

~Sydney Molare', Author

"The Triumph of My Soul is an engaging, thought provoking, spirit-filled anthology that will grip the reader like a vice from the very first page. Appropriately titled, The Triumph of My Soul reminds readers that God will always do what He says He's going to do--if you just believe."

"One Woman's Journey"

Linda R. Herman, Author

"One Woman's Journey," by Linda Herman, could be any woman's journey. Losing ourselves in the shadow of a man, like Amber did, is as normal as sunshine. Her journey was fraught with pain, loss, and hopelessness. But, with the help of her friends, and her own faith, Amber's journey led her to redemption. Through it all she learned to say yes to God -- again.

*~Janet West Sellars,
Author of *Quiet As It's Kept

Linda R. Herman is a new author on the scene. She's an avid reader who finally tested her writing skills in 2005 when she decided to enter Chapter 1 of her unpublished novel into the Black Expressions annual fiction writing contest. To Linda's surprise, she won first place honors for her work, Cost of Our Affairs. It was then that the 911 dispatcher decided to pursue her career as a writer. Linda is the mother of two and has been married for nine years. Linda has been signed by Xpress Yourself Publishing and will release her first novella in 2008. His book of poems, Dance of the Heart, is forthcoming (MSU Press, 2007). He is also a doctoral student at the University of Wisconsin at Milwaukee.

“Death at a Church”

Jacqueline Moore, Author

“Moore is a prolific author who writes with a passion generated from a genuine love of people. The emotions of her characters are so real you find yourself saddened by their dispositions and triumphant during their moments of completion. I look forward to reading more work from Moore in the near future.”

~ Péron F. Long, Author

“Jackie Moore inspires, encourages, and instructs with a knowledgeable and caring voice. A true devotional writer, her lessons are life applicable without the judgmental tone taken by so many Christian writers. Mama Jacq – her email handle speaks volumes – is not afraid to write what’s on her heart and pens thoughtful, change mandating instruction. She teaches in love.”

~Makasha Dorsey, Author & Motivational Speaker

Jacqueline Moore is currently pursuing her undergraduate degree in religion at Liberty University and offers spiritual words of encouragement daily on her website www.virtuousliving.com, and on her myspace page www.myspace.com/mamajacq. She and her two sons, James and Joseph reside in Detroit, Michigan.

Jackie is a Christian writer of non-fiction and fiction. She is currently working on a compilation of her devotionals and has written a non-fiction book on "Virtuous Women" from which she has developed a workshop/seminar. Jackie is also a staff writer for Bahiyah Magazine, The Blessed Room Magazine, and is a contributing author to several anthologies.

“He Loves Us, Always”

Linda Wattley, Author

"Linda Wattley has a divine gift of writing to the soul. The words on the pages become alive and breathe a new life experience for one's mind, body and soul."

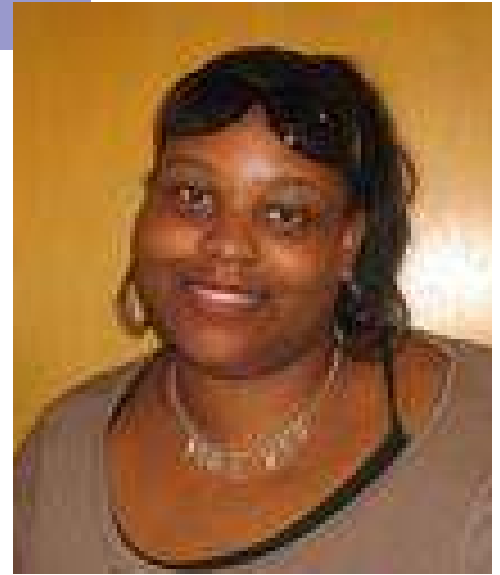

~Minister
Deonna R. Matthews

Linda Wattley is a published writer who began her first work of art with poetry. The poem, “I Wish” appeared in the Poetry Gems of the American Poets Society. For over twelve years she had her own religious/philosophical column in the Frosted Illustrated Newspaper titled: The Best Will Show Themselves. In her weekly column, Wattley shared a unique voice revealing her understanding of the heart of God. Heading into her thirteenth year of writing, she realized God had imparted a message to her that she must share with the world. In the beginning, this message was founded on love and God’s desire that His people knew Him individually and wholeheartedly. Linda Wattley's heartfelt desire is to use her gifts and talents to assist in the healing process of victims who have experienced all forms of abuse. She is presenting The Healing Trilogy: Something about an Angel, Deeper than Love and This Thing Called Love. This series is for those who have been abused and those who love them and would like to understand the soulful altering experience. She has also poured her heart into two self-help books that promises to bless the hearts and minds of readers who seek spiritual renewal and understanding of the heart and mind of God. LAST DAY OF VICTIMIZATION is a tool for every living soul facing the evils of the world as innocent victims. I KNOW MIXED SIGNALS reveals the truth about molestation and the secrets about it the world does not want us to know. www.LindaWattley.com

"Breaking the Chains of Abuse"

Casche Russell, Author

"Casche Russell pens words as if they are songs from the heart and soul. There is music in her verse, sometimes sad and bitter, sometimes hot and spicy, but always relatable. Mostly, her pen sings songs of love and survival. Russell is a survivor. This is a writer and poet who is dedicated to the craft of telling the stories of her life, and in doing so, she mirrors the lives of her readers. That is what true poets do. They reflect the real world, and whether ugly or beautiful, it is the world around them and around us."

~LM Ross, Author
Manhood The Longest Moan

Casche Russell is a native of Redford, Michigan. She is a poetic author who writes from her own personal experiences in life. Through all the personal pain she has endured, this author is still standing. She has taken to the pen and turned her pain into poetic prose. Casche a wife and mother, is busy composing her first book of poetry, which she hopes to have published very soon. She credits her desire to succeed to God above, her late grandmother, her husband and kids, and her guardian angel, Daizhjon, the son she lost to domestic violence. He inspired her short story, "Breaking the Chains of Abuse." Learn more about Casche Russell, visit her online at www.myspace.com/romanticgoddess.

“The Triumph of My Soul”

Elissa Gabrielle, Author

“Elissa Gabrielle is a force to be reckoned with.”

~Shani Greene Dowdell, Author

“Elissa Gabrielle is this generation's Maya Angelou, Amiri Baraka and Sonia Sanchez. Her visualizations of inner and outer loves, of subterranean fears laced in anger, of unrelenting urgency to evoke change and betterment, is fresh, vital, and burning with eroticism. She creates new scents from familiar smells. She is confrontation, passion, love on fire. She is to be digested, discussed and passed on. She is to be cherished, protected and honored. She is our ancestors and our children yet to be born.”

-Max Julien,
Author, Filmmaker,
Designer & Activist. Star and co-writer of The Mack

Elissa Gabrielle...Author, Publisher, Poet, & Visionary is the author of two poetry books and three novels.

We first met this incredible talent with her debut collection of strong and moving verse, Stand and Be Counted. Focusing on themes of love, race, religion, inspiration and society, Elissa Gabrielle has put together a collection of inspirational poetry geared toward positive change that is both moving and entertaining. Through insightful visions and strong declarations, Gabrielle instills confidence in readers as she illuminates the path to a more self-rewarding and gratifying life.

Utilizing the resurgence of her desire to write and "a God given talent that wouldn't go away," Elissa Gabrielle was inspired to pen Peace In The Storm, which has testimonials from some of the entertainment industry's finest. Peace In The Storm came to Gabrielle while reflecting real life experiences, both her own and from the lives of others.

Elissa is the Creator and CEO of Greetings From the Soul: The Elissa Gabrielle Collection which is a greeting card line that features poignant messages and heartfelt poetry and themes. Find out more at www.greetingsfromthesoul.com.
